DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.
2. Claims 1-4, 6, 7 and 16-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gelbin 6,569,927, in view of Hamada et al. 5,362,572.
3. Both references have been described already in the previous Office action. The rejections are maintained for the reasons elucidated in the "Response to Arguments" below.

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 9/22/08 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The surface tension of polyisobutene is 33.6 mN/m. (See Keller et al. 6,683,126, column 12, lines 34-35.) The glass transition temperature of polyisobutylene is -61.2°C. (See Kennedy et al. 6,930,151, column 1, line 36-37.) Polyisobutylene is claimed in claim 1 of Gelbin in a Markush group, which is equivalent to have each member claimed separately. According to KSR International v. Teleflex (82 USPQ2d 1385-1396 [Supreme Court 2007]) choosing from a finite number if identified predictable solutions with a reasonable expectation of success is obvious. The claim lists seven (7) polyolefins not thousands. A reference is not limited to its examples. See In re Fracalossi, 215 USPQ 569-570 (CCPA 1972). The rejection stands.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
